Approval notice. This proposed revision preserves the intent of the approved source policy and adds controls commonly expected in a mature policy framework. It does not replace version 2.0 until formally approved. Applicable law and written employment terms prevail where they provide a higher standard or different mandatory requirement.

Objective

This policy ensures that employee exits are managed professionally, consistently, securely, and with minimal disruption. It covers resignation acknowledgement, notice, transition, company property, access closure, final settlement, employment documents, records, and optional feedback.

Scope

This policy applies to all employees leaving NHK Technologies Pvt Ltd. Involuntary termination decisions are governed by the Employee Termination Policy; this policy governs the exit administration that follows any form of separation.

Notice Periods

- Level 1 employees: 30 days.
- Level 2 employees: 60 days.
- Managerial positions: 60 days.
- Employees on probation: 7 days.
- A different period stated in applicable law or an employee's written contract prevails. Any waiver, reduction, payment in lieu, or early release requires written approval under the authority matrix.

Roles and Responsibilities

Role	Responsibilities
Departing employee	Submit written notice, continue duties during notice, complete handover, return property, settle authorized obligations, and update contact details for exit documents.
Manager	Acknowledge operational impact, create a handover plan, identify access and knowledge-transfer needs, approve completed transition tasks, and protect confidentiality.
Human Resources	Acknowledge the exit, confirm dates and obligations, coordinate the checklist, final settlement, benefits information, documents, records, and optional exit interview.
Information Technology and Administration	Recover assets, preserve business records, remove access at the approved time, and confirm completion to Human Resources.
Finance	Calculate and process final amounts based on approved inputs, lawful deductions, and required timelines.

Resignation and Acknowledgement

1. The employee submits resignation by email and through the approved HRMS portal where available, addressed to the reporting manager and Human Resources.
2. Human Resources confirms receipt, the proposed last working day, notice obligation, reporting expectations, and the exit checklist in writing.
3. The manager and Human Resources resolve any date discrepancy against the employment contract, applicable law, and authorized exception process.

Transition and Handover

- The manager will establish a documented handover plan covering active work, deadlines, owners, client or vendor commitments, credentials held in approved vaults, records, and key contacts.
- The departing employee must store work product in approved company locations and must not retain company data, client data, source code, credentials, or confidential material after separation.
- Managers should avoid assigning unnecessary new long-term work during notice and should schedule knowledge transfer early enough for verification.
- Human Resources may conduct an exit interview. Participation is voluntary unless a lawful and documented requirement applies, and feedback will be handled sensitively.

Assets and Access

All company property must be returned on or before the last working day unless a written collection arrangement is approved. Information Technology will preserve required business records and remove access at the effective time agreed with Human Resources. Personal accounts must not be used to transfer company records.

Damage or loss will be assessed fairly, distinguishing normal wear from negligence or willful damage. No deduction will be made automatically. Any recovery must be supported by evidence, communicated to the employee, authorized, and permitted by applicable law and written terms.

Final Settlement and Documents

- The last month's salary will be included in the Full and Final settlement unless applicable law requires earlier payment.
- The company target is to process Full and Final settlement within 30 working days after completion of the required notice period or last working day, subject to any shorter mandatory legal timeline.
- The settlement statement should itemize salary, approved expense claims, eligible leave treatment, benefits, statutory amounts, and lawful deductions.
- Human Resources will issue the applicable relieving or service documentation by email after required approvals and should provide a contact route for questions.
- Disputed items should be raised promptly with Human Resources. The undisputed portion should not be withheld where it can reasonably be processed separately.

Confidentiality, Data, and Continuing Obligations

Confidentiality, intellectual property, data protection, non-solicitation, or other continuing obligations remain effective only as stated in applicable law and written agreements. Exit records and feedback will be access-controlled and retained under the company retention schedule. Team communications will be limited to necessary operational information and will respect the departing employee's privacy.

Unplanned or Exceptional Exits

Where notice is not served, the employee is unavailable, or urgent risk exists, Human Resources, the manager, Information Technology, and Finance will adapt the checklist, protect systems and records, document decisions, and apply contract and law. Absence alone must not be treated as resignation without reasonable attempts to contact the employee and a fair review of the circumstances.

Policy Review

Human Resources will review this policy annually and after material legal, payroll, security, or HRMS changes.

Reference Framework
