Onboarding Policy

A secure, inclusive, and accountable transition from accepted offer to productive employment

Policy owner	Human Resources
Status	Proposed revised draft pending management, HR, and legal approval
Proposed version	3.0
Review cycle	Annual or when law or operations change
Supersedes after approval	Onboarding_Policy_v2.0.docx

Approval notice. This proposed revision preserves the intent of the approved source policy and adds controls commonly expected in a mature policy framework. It does not replace version 2.0 until formally approved. Applicable law and written employment terms prevail where they provide a higher standard or different mandatory requirement.

Objective

This policy ensures that new employees receive clear expectations, required documentation, secure access, appropriate equipment, essential training, team integration, and structured manager support from pre-boarding through the initial review period.

Scope

This policy applies to new full-time, part-time, temporary, and intern employees across company locations. Relevant access, security, and orientation steps also apply to contractors according to their engagement.

Principles

- Onboarding begins only after an authorized offer has been accepted and required conditions are tracked.
- Personal documents will be limited to what is necessary, collected securely, verified by authorized staff, and retained according to law and the company schedule.
- Access will follow least privilege, and equipment and core accounts should be ready at least 1 day before the start date where operationally possible.
- New employees will receive inclusive and reasonably accessible onboarding and a clear route to ask questions or request workplace adjustments.
- Managers remain accountable for role integration and performance expectations; Human Resources coordinates but does not replace manager ownership.

Roles and Responsibilities

Role	Responsibilities

Role	Responsibilities
Human Resources	Owns the onboarding checklist, employment documents, induction, privacy notices, verification, HRMS setup, policy acknowledgement, and process monitoring.
Hiring manager	Prepares role objectives, schedule, introductions, training, work allocation, regular check-ins, and initial performance feedback.
Information Technology	Provides approved equipment and least-privilege accounts, verifies security setup, and records asset assignment.
Administration and Finance	Complete authorized workplace, access, attendance, payroll, and benefit setup within their remit.
New employee	Provide accurate required information, protect company property and credentials, complete required learning, and raise access or support gaps promptly.

Required Documentation

Human Resources will provide a checklist and secure submission method. The current source policy identifies a passport-size photograph, PAN card, Aadhaar card, current and permanent address proof, highest qualification document, relieving or experience letters, and the previous employer's last three months of payslips.

- Only documents necessary for a lawful and defined onboarding purpose will be requested. Human Resources will explain the purpose and whether an alternative document is acceptable.
- Originals may be inspected for verification but should not be retained unless legally required and authorized.
- Previous payslips will be requested only where necessary and lawful and will not be used for an unlawful or discriminatory purpose.
- Government identifiers and other sensitive documents must not be sent through personal messaging or stored in unapproved locations.
- A missing document will be assessed individually. Human Resources will state the deadline, available alternative, and consequence rather than cancelling employment automatically without review.

Onboarding Stages

Pre-boarding

- Send the offer and obtain acceptance within 3 working days unless an approved extension is recorded.
- Confirm start date, location, reporting manager, work arrangement, first-day schedule, contact route, and required documentation.
- Complete authorized background and previous-employment verification with notice and required consent.
- Prepare workstation, approved assets, Active Directory login, company email, HRMS or ERP access, biometric attendance registration where applicable, and role access at least 1 day before start.
- Identify any accessibility, workplace, schedule, or equipment adjustment through a confidential Human Resources process.

Day One

- Verify identity and employment documents through the approved process and provide required privacy information.
- Conduct induction covering company structure, culture, working arrangements, pay and attendance process, key policies, reporting routes, safety, privacy, information security, and employee support.
- Introduce the employee to the manager, production team, key collaborators, and an assigned onboarding contact where used.
- Issue and acknowledge assets and verify that required accounts function without sharing credentials.

First Week

- Review the job description, priorities, decision authority, communication expectations, working hours, goals, and how success will be measured.
- Complete mandatory policy, security, safety, privacy, and role-specific training scheduled for the first week.
- Confirm access, tools, meeting cadence, workflow, escalation routes, and the first meaningful assignments.

First 30 60 and 90 Days

- The manager holds documented check-ins at appropriate intervals to review progress, workload, training, relationships, access barriers, feedback, and goals.
- Human Resources checks that core onboarding tasks and acknowledgements are complete and invites process feedback.
- Any probation or performance assessment follows the employment terms and performance policy and must not be a surprise at the end of the period.
- Long-term development goals and any remaining learning plan are agreed before the onboarding cycle closes.

Verification and Adverse Information

Verification must be proportionate and relevant. If material adverse or inconsistent information arises, Human Resources will assess accuracy and job relevance and normally allow the employee a reasonable opportunity to explain or correct it before action, subject to safety and legal constraints.

Data Protection and Records

Onboarding records will be accurate, securely transferred, access-controlled, and retained according to the company schedule and applicable law. Copies will not be stored in personal mailboxes or local folders after transfer to the approved system. Access logs and asset records will be maintained for accountability.

Exceptions, Metrics, and Review

Exceptions require Human Resources approval and documented risk controls. Human Resources will monitor readiness, completion, new-hire feedback, early access issues, mandatory training, and early attrition using aggregate information. This policy will be reviewed annually.

Reference Framework

These sources informed the proposed controls as non-binding benchmarks. They do not replace applicable law, employment contracts, or approved company policy.
